Don't miss the whale season in Baja California

Grand Fiesta Americana Los Cabos All Inclusive

Each year one of nature's most delightful signs of seasonal change occurs—the migration of hundreds of whales from the frigid waters of the Arctic to the warm, calm waters surrounding the Baja Peninsula. And, from December to March, there is no better place to view such a spectacle than Los Cabos.

Guests staying at Grand Fiesta Americana Los Cabos can expect to see some whales while sunbathing at the beach, while you are relaxing on the infinity pool, having lunch at Peninsula restaurant and even from the comfort of your room balcony. However there are several local tour companies that offer whale-watching trips aboard all-weather inflatable speedboats and sunset cruises.

A close encounter with these animals is something everyone needs to experience. Baja is home to two world heritage sites that protect the whales and the surrounding environment. This makes it a perfect breeding ground for the beautiful mammals and an even better whale watching destination for vacationers.

The First 2016 Mexican Sun Rays, as seen at the Fiesta Americana Cozumel All Inclusive

We are happy to share the spectacular first sunrise of 2016 as seen from the island of Cozumel, the easternmost point of Mexico.
